CLUB NOTES

THE GREAT day has arrived after three weeks of expectancy and, for some, anxiety. We hope the outcome, which will soon become another piece of F.A. Cup history, will make it a memorable occasion for North End.

We hope it will all prove abundantly worth while for everybody whose efforts to get tickets for the match were rewarded, especially those who showed up at Deepdale to make sure.

The directors and an augmented, overworked office staff, did their utmost, which is as much as is humanly possible, to see that the tickets available were fairly distributed.

Manchester United had received their permitted quota. It was considerable (nearly 10,000) and no doubt they would have been glad of three times as many. They have been at a premium.

Our aim was to see that as many as possible got into the hands of our supporters. That was achieved. The scheme devised surely was basically fair—a ticket for those who came to the last match.

Purchasers of programmes received 17,000 tickets, and there was a later distribution to compensate those who were unlucky. As our average attendance is about 15,000 the "regulars" got their due.

It was a novel plan. It coped with the old problem of too few for too many well enough to suggest it will be tried by other clubs faced with similar difficulties. It seems to us the best answer.

Inevitably some people were disappointed through sickness and other reasons. A quart cannot be got into a pint pot. Some letters have criticised us. More have said well done North End.

Our manager has had worse worries in sorting out his casualties and trying to get key players fit in time for them to play. We have been cruelly hit by injuries at the worst possible time.

We hope his efforts and those of his busy staff are rewarded, too — by success. A visit from a team of Manchester United's standing is an event, win, lose or draw, a chance to earn glory.

They have played at Deepdale only twice since we ceased to be a First Division club in 1961. The matches were F.A. Cup-ties, and both were memorable occasions which brought North End much credit.

In the sixth round of 1961-62, after three tough games with Liverpool (the decider was at Old Trafford, we held United to a draw at Deepdale, and lost the replay by the odd goal in a thriller.

In 1965-66, again in the sixth round, the story was repeated. United were on the verge of defeat at Deepdale but survived by a 2-2 draw. We were unlucky losers in the replay by two late goals. (1-3).

The rivals also had a sixth round clash in 1948, when United won the Cup in one of the greatest of Finals (4-2 v. Blackpool). They were playing home games at Maine Road owing to the blitz and beat us 4-1.

We had won three away ties, including one at Maine Road v. Manchester City. It was our misfortune that goalkeeper Jimmy Gooch had an untimely injury. His deputy Jack Hindle had a harsh baptism.

Our only other F.A. Cup meeting with United occurred in the 1945-46 season, when the experiment of two-legged ties was tried. After losing 0-1 at Manchester, North End prevailed at Deepdale by 3-1.

League News and Views

TEAMS SKIRTING the fringe of the promotion zone in Division Two are getting little encouragement from the leading clubs by way of lapses. Burnley downed Norwich—only their third defeat in 27 matches—but they are still well ahead, and Millwall leap-frogged into second place with a narrow win against ambitious Middlesbrough.

Birmingham again proved their power at home, where they are unbeaten, and Sunderland thrashed Charlton to come back into the reckoning. Q.P.R. earned their 11th away point, Blackpool shocked Swindon by 4-3, and North End slipped.

Goal scoring in the top two Divisions was prolific, the 22 matches yielding 77, most of them by home teams which won 15 matches and drew two. There were only two goalless draws in the 45 week-end games, but only a dozen goals in another 12.

The details are: Division One: 11 games, 35 goals. Division Two: 11 games, 32; Division Three, 12 games, 30. Division Four, 11 games, 29; total 126; average 2.8.

For a change home teams had the better of the argument with 25 wins and 10 draws.

* * *

ATTENDANCES were again encouraging for the time of the year. They totalled 630,674 compared with 476,580 during the corresponding period last season when there were 10 fewer matches. The average nevertheless showed a small rise to maintain the recent improvement. The 11 First Division matches attracted as many as 347,253.

Only two of the 45 League games last week-end drew bigger crowds than the 39,538 at the Liverpool v. Crystal Palace clash, yet it was the smallest at Anfield this season. The two exceptions were 47,012 at West Bromwich Albion for the visit of Manchester United, who retain their exceptional crowd pulling powers at away matches, and 46,774 for the meeting of Tottenham Hotspur and Leeds United (they saw one goal).

In the lower and poverty stricken regions there were only 1,960 spectators at Crewe, 2,128 at Hartlepool, 1,987 at Barrow and 2,065 at Darlington. The lowest in Division Three was 2,793 at Torquay.

Catching the Eye—David Connor

OUR NEW utility player, 26-year-old Dave Connor from Manchester City made his debut in the type of match hated by newcomers, a grim tough tussle with the visiting side cramming all they know into grabbing one point or both. No doubt he was judged by his price, but wealthy clubs, not players, have always set the transfer spiral soaring.

Our manager is satisfied he got value for money. He rates Dave's potential as a mid-field player a source of strength that will increase. In a new team and not in his best position he could have wished for a breezier start, but his qualities were showing long before the finish. He left a good impression and a feeling of satisfaction.

Without being showy he played to a purpose which had the stamp of experience, and he will be an asset when he settles in. He was workmanlike and effective without frills. North End have had many such players with his determined approach. He will be another.

KEEP OFF THE GRASS

Important—The attention of our younger supporters is drawn to the necessity of keeping the playing area clear at all times. Tremendous damage is done to the Pitch, particularly during wet weather, by Supporters invading the playing area. THIS MUST CEASE FORTHWITH otherwise the club may find it necessary to impose restrictions which might penalise the well-behaved section of our Junior Supporters. SO PLEASE KEEP OFF THE PITCH AT ALL TIMES.

TODAY'S PERSONALITIES

Man at the Helm

FRANK O'FARRELL

(Manchester United's Manager)

TODAY WE welcome back to Deepdale one of our 'old boys'– and a highly successful one, too. FRANK O'FARRELL has enjoyed a rapid rise up the managerial scale and, in only his fourth campaign as a Football League manager, led Leicester City to the F.A. Cup final in 1969.

He was last in charge of a team at Deepdale when Leicester City paid their last visit in October, 1969, and were defeated.

Frank O'Farrell is one of football's quiet men. A deep thinker, all his successes to date have been carefully planned, but he is a realist. "A manager's job is to bring success. We go into it with our eyes open. I enjoy the challenge. But we all know we are likely to go if our team doesn't achieve success", he reflected. When 32 he was appointed player-manager of Southern League Weymouth. His Football League chance came in May 1965 when Torquay United invited him to become their manager. He led Torquay out of the Fourth Division and in the following two seasons came near taking them into Division Two.

Offers from bigger clubs poured in. He waited until he had gained sufficient experience before making another move. Then he accepted Leicester City's offer, but he was too late to halt their slide into Division Two.

Man in the Middle

JOHN GOW

(SWANSEA)

JOHN GOW last refereed a North End match when Hawkins scored in a 1-1 draw with Aston Villa at Deepdale just two years ago, when both teams were relegated. He learned much of his refereeing technique from his late father, who officiated at League games for almost 20 years. As a boy he often travelled to watch his father in action.

After leaving school and while at university, Mr. Gow played with some well-known players including John Charles and Phil Woosnam. In 1953 he was appointed a referee to the Swansea Senior League.

Moving to Birmingham he refereed in the Football Combination. Now settled back in his native Swansea, he is in his ninth season as a League referee and has handled the Welsh Cup Final and international matches. He is a schoolmaster in Swansea.
